

What's Going Wrong in UNISON?

Open Forum

As winter approaches UNISON members, alongside millions of public sector workers, face the prospect of cuts in real pay, the threat of privatisation, and the worry that the financial crisis caused by reckless bankers chasing quick profits will lead to cuts in our jobs and services. Yet increasingly, rather than standing up to the Government and the employers who are attacking us, UNISON's leadership appear more intent on curtailing union democracy. They are trying to silence the voice of the rank and file

What's Going Wrong?

- Failed and misled Pay campaigns
- Being Left to fight Single Status alone
- Un-elected full time officials delaying and frustrating calls for ballots for action to defend members' jobs
- £millions wasted as members' interests are sacrificed in order to prop up the new labour government
- Restrictions on the right to campaign
- The right to debate key issues at Conference being denied
- Disciplinary action and expulsions from the union used to silence critical voices

We need a democratic union so that we can fight to defend our pay, jobs, and services. We need to get together now to discuss ways of making our union work for us, the members.

Have your say.
